IMPORTANT SUGGESTIONS

1. Have your room reserved in advance. (See p. 23, for information about dormitories.
2. Urge your room-mate to make reservation promptly; otherwise the management will have to assign some one to the room with you.
3. Before leaving home mark your trunk plainly, putting your own name on it and the name of the dormitory to which you have been assigned, and have it checked to Chapel Hill, N. C. If you make your reservation for the first term before June 1, or for the second term before July 15, a printed card giving your Chapel Hill address (room number and name of dormitory) and a baggage check will be sent to you. This card attached to your trunk or baggage will insure its prompt delivery, provided you DELIVER THE CHECK TO THE UNIVERSITY SUMMER SCHOOL OFFICIAL REPRESENTATIVE AT UNIVERSITY STATION.
4. Be sure to provide yourself with the necessary articles which you are expected to bring; bed linen, pillows, towels, etc. (See p. 25.)
5. If convenient for you to do so, confer with your superintendent or principal and get his advice as to the courses you should pursue in the Summer School.
6. Do not plan too much. Fifteen hours of class work a week is a reasonable amount to attempt. An extra charge of $5.00 is made for each course beyond this amount except in the case of students registered in the Division of Elementary Education for certification credit only.
7. Decide before coming that you will stay the full term. No credit will be given for a shorter period than a term. Those who possibly can remain for both terms will find it greatly to their advantage to do so, since double credit may be earned toward meeting the requirements for the University's degrees or for State certification.
8. Be present for the first roll-call. The person who begins his work a day or two late is obliged to labor under a handicap. Work will start promptly as scheduled, and the pace will be brisk. Note also that an extra fee of $2.50 is charged for late registration. (See p. 28.)
9. Registration for credit for the first term will not be allowed after Monday, June 13, nor for the second term after Monday, July 25.
10. Please note that certain courses will not be given unless applied for in advance.
11. Be sure to instruct your correspondents to put the name of the dormitory in which you room and your room number on any mail sent to you while in Chapel Hill. If this is done, it will insure prompt delivery; otherwise delivery will be delayed several hours.
12. If, after examining this bulletin carefully, there is further information you desire, address N. W. Walker, Director of the Summer school, Chapel Hill, N. C.

PART I—GENERAL INFORMATION

The Summer Session: June 9-August 26

The 1932 session of the University Summer School will open on Thursday, June 9, and continue for twelve weeks, closing on Friday, August 26. The session will be divided into two terms of six weeks each. The first term will begin on Thursday, June 9, and close on Tuesday, July 19. The second term will begin on Wednesday, July 20, and close on Friday, August 26.

Registration

The regular time for registration for the first term will be Thursday June 9. All students of the Summer School should try to be present and register on that day, as the regular class work will begin promptly at 8:00 on Friday morning, June 10. Moreover, there is an extra fee for delayed registration. For those registering June 10 or 11, the extra fee is $2.50. For those registering June 13, the extra fee is $5.00. Registration for credit will not be permitted in the first term after 5:00 o'clock Monday, June 13, nor in the second term after 5:00 o'clock Monday, July 25, except by action of the Administrative Board. See Calendar.

Those Who May Be Admitted

Registration in the Summer School will be limited to those applicants who can qualify for admission under one of the following provisions.

1. Those who can satisfy the University's requirements for admission as given in the annual catalogue. The entrance requirements for admission to the University are fifteen units secured by graduation from a standard four-year secondary school. In order to be accepted as a candidate for a degree the student must meet the specific requirements laid down by the school or college in which the degree is conferred.

2. Teachers holding regular State certificates.

3. Applicants for State certificates who have graduated from schools accredited by the State Department of Education.

4. Special students who are neither candidates for degrees nor applicants for State teachers' certificates may be admitted under the University's general regulations covering such cases.

For Whom Courses Are Planned

Professional and cultural courses are planned for:

1. Teachers of Primary Grades.
2. Teachers of Grammar Grades.
3. High School Teachers and Principals.
4. Teachers of Special Subjects.
5. County and City Superintendents and Supervisors.
6. College and University students who desire to earn extra credit toward their degrees.
7. Graduate students, teachers and others wishing to pursue professional and cultural courses leading to advanced degrees.
8. Librarians.

Divisions of the Summer School

The Summer School is organized into three general divisions, as follows:

The College Division
Library School
The Graduate Division
The Division of Elementary Education

In the College Division falls all the undergraduate work offered in the following schools:

The College of Liberal Arts
The School of Education
The School of Commerce
The School of Applied Science
The School of Public Welfare
The School of Engineering

In the Graduate Division, or the Graduate School, fall all the courses carrying strictly graduate credit as well as courses for advanced undergraduates when such courses are elected by graduate students for credit toward the higher degrees, by whatever department or in whatever school they are given.

In the Division of Elementary Education fall the courses designed especially for elementary teachers in accordance with both the regulations of the State Department of Education and the curriculum requirements for those seeking degrees in elementary education.

The courses offered in the College and Graduate Division (See Part II) are given by the regular departments of the University and carry credit toward the several degrees under the same regulations as in the regular college year.

The Division of Elementary Education (See Part III) is operated as one of the divisions of the School of Education. The undergraduate courses offered in this Division are designed to meet the needs of teachers of the Primary and Grammar Grades of the public schools.

Summer School Credits

In order to understand the credit allowances for work accomplished in the Summer School, and the total amount of credit that may be earned in one term or both; it is necessary to bear in mind the specific ends for which credit is sought or may be granted. It is further necessary to keep clearly in mind the University's technical meaning of the word course as distinguished from the popular meaning of the word, as for example, "summer school course," meaning simply any subject pursued for six weeks. It is important, therefore, that the following definitions and distinctions concerning credits in the College and Graduate Divisions be borne in mind.

The University expresses its degree requirements, and consequently its credits toward graduation, in terms of courses and not in terms of semester hours as is the more common practice among colleges and state departments of education. The regular college year is divided into three quarters and not two semesters as is the case in most institutions. The two terms of the Summer School together constitute a fourth or extra quarter. A course pursued through a quarter, classes meeting five or six times a week, carries a credit of one course. Thirty-six courses are required for graduation with the degree of A.B. or A.B. in Education. These thirty-six courses are equal to 121⅓ or more semester hours. The University's course, therefore, is equal to 3⅓ or 4 semester hours. The Summer School course meeting five or six times a week for six weeks carries a credit of ½ course, or a credit of 1⅔ or 2 *semester hours. A Summer School course meeting ten or more times a week for six weeks carries a credit of one course or, from 3⅓ or 4 semester hours. A Summer School course meeting five times a week through both terms carries a credit of one course.

Three courses constitute the students' normal load of work for the regular quarter and for the two terms of the Summer School. (Students in the graduate division are limited strictly to this amount of credit per quarter.) The undergraduate student may, if the Dean of the School in which he is registered approves, carry four courses and earn credit for four courses. Three half-courses (or one and one-half courses) constitute the student's usual load of work for one term of the Summer School. A student may, however, if his Dean approves, carry four half-courses (that is, four summer school courses) in one term. The total amount of credit that may be earned in one term of the Summer School is from 5 to 8 semester hours.

* Those interested in certification credit will note that the North Carolina State Department of Education allows certification credit of two semester hours for each half-course, as here defined, and four semester hours for each course completed in an accredited Summer School.

Standard of Work

The standard of work in courses given for University credit will be in all respects that of the corresponding courses as given during the regular session, as these courses are an integral part of the work of the University. It is the hope of the University that, by giving such courses, increased service may be rendered to the growing body of teachers in the State who have already completed college courses or done some work of college grade and who now desire while in service to improve themselves along both professional and cultural lines.

Courses of Freshman and Sophomore grade will not be credited as graduate work. Courses of Junior and Senior grade if marked C. or G. in the statement of courses below (See Part II of this announcement), may be given such credit as indicated in the regulations below. Definite information about the different credits that certain courses carry can be obtained at the time of registration.

Term Reports and Grades

After the close of each term reports of the standing of all students in all their studies are sent to the student. The reports are based upon the following system of marking:

Grade A, Excellent
Grade B, Good
Grade C, Fair
Grade D, Barely passed
Grade F, Failed
Grade I, Work incomplete

A student must attain a grade of D to pass in any study. Students receiving grade F must repeat the study to receive any credit for the same.

Grades for each graduate course completed are reported to the Dean and to the Registrar. These grades are as follows:

"High," which represents work of distinction.

"Passed," which represents satisfactory work.

"Failed," which represents work that is unsatisfactory for graduate credit.

No work falling below the standard represented by the grade of "Passed" is counted for graduate credit. If, in the judgment of the Administrative Board, the quality of the work done by any student falls below the standard expected of graduate students, the registration of such a student will be canceled.

Degrees: When Conferred

Degrees are conferred at the annual commencement in June and at the close of the second term of the Summer School. Degrees conferred at the close of the Summer School are awarded without academic ceremony.

Admission to Undergraduate Courses

Applicants for admission to courses of Freshman grade must satisfy the requirements for entrance as laid down in the University catalogue. These requirements comprise a total of 15 units selected from the subjects of English, foreign languages (ancient and modern), history, mathematics and science, and vocational subjects. For details the applicant is referred to the University catalogue.

Applicants for courses of advanced grade must furnish evidence of work of college grade completed at this or another institution. Such evidence must consist of the official statement from the institution where the work was done, showing definitely the courses pursued and the amount of credit recorded. Admission to specific courses will be determined in each case by the department on the basis of previous preparation.

Application for admission to undergraduate courses should be sent in advance to the Director of the Summer School. This application should be accompanied by certificates of preparation, or official statements from other institutions that the applicant has attended, and a list of the courses the applicant desires to pursue. Blanks for this purpose will be furnished on request.

The Graduate School

The Summer School offers excellent opportunities for carrying on advanced work in many fields of learning. Graduates of standard colleges are admitted to the Graduate School during the summer term on precisely the same basis as in the regular session. Such students may become candidates for advanced degrees or may register as special students in such courses as they desire.

Students who wish to pursue in the Summer School courses leading to the Master's degree should bring with them when they register a transcript of their college credits. In case the student has not had sufficient training to enable him to pursue strictly graduate courses, provision may be made in the Summer School for the making up of such deficiency.

No student may receive credit during any one summer quarter for more than three courses in the Graduate School.

1. Admission. Holders of degrees from standard colleges are admitted without examination upon presentation of their credentials.

It will save time at registration if these credentials are submitted in advance of the openng of the Summer School.

Admission to the Graduate School is not the same as admission to candidacy for a higher degree. For admission to candidacy for a degree a student must have been in residence in the Graduate School for one quarter or two summer terms. Action on each case is postponed until the student has progressed sufficiently to make possible the planning of his course. This does not imply any increase in the length of time necessary for the attainment of the degree. It means simply that the individual record of each student, undergraduate as well as graduate, is taken into account in determining what must be done in order to secure the degree.

2. Regulations as to Courses. While graduate students may register for any of the courses offered by the Summer School Faculty, no courses will count for credit towards an advanced degree unless they are classified as graduate courses in this bulletin or in the Catalogue of the Graduate School. These courses must be selected in accordance with the rules for major and minor subjects set forth in the catalogue of the Graduate School. In general, this means that two-thirds of a candidate's work during his entire period of residence (three summers being the usual time required) must be from one department, the remaining one-third being from a closely allied minor department.

3. Requirements for the Master's degree. For a detailed statement of the requirements for the degrees of Master of Arts and Master of Science, the student is referred to the catalogue of the Graduate School. These rules are the same in their application to Summer School students as in the case of students registered for the regular sessions. Students may continue their studies during the year under the direction of the special committee in charge of their work, and may do part of the work required for their theses in this manner. In certain approved cases, also, credit not to exceed two full courses may be transferred for work done in another university. Every such case is treated individually and must be approved by the Administrative Board, on recommendation of the department of major study, at the time application is made for admission to candidacy for a higher degree. Students who are not admitted under these special conditions will find three full summer quarters necessary for the completion of the requirements for the Master's degree.

Work taken more than five years before the date at which the master's degree is expected may not be used to count for credit toward that degree.

A reading knowledge of at least one modern foreign language is required of candidates for the master's degree. This knowledge will be tested by a special examination given by the language department, and must be certified to before the student is admitted to candidacy for the degree.

The thesis must be written in accordance with provisions stated in the Graduate Catalogue. It may count not to exceed one course. This thesis may be handed in, and the final oral and written examinations may be taken, at any time during the year. (See scheduled dates on the calendar.) The Master's degree is conferred at commencement in June and at the end of the second term of the Summer School.

4. Requirements for the Doctor's Degree. Prospective candidates for the degree of Doctor of Philosophy are referred to the Catalogue of the Graduate School for a detailed statement of the requirements for this degree. For purposes of convenience a summary of these requirements is presented here:

1. Admission is the same as for the master's degree.
2. A minimum of three years of graduate study, at least one of which—the last—must be at the University of North Carolina.
3. A reading knowledge of French and German.
4. A major covering adequately the field of major interest and at least six courses in a minor.
5. A preliminary oral examination.
6. A written examination in the field of major interest.
7. An oral examination covering the entire field of study.
8. A dissertation.

5. Further Information. All students who propose to do work leading to an advanced degree should read carefully the catalogue of the Graduate School, which will be sent on application to the Dean of the Graduate School.

Summer School Certificates and Professional Credits

At the close of each term regular examinations will be held, and certificates will be issued to those who pass satisfactory examinations on the courses pursued. These certificates state definitely the courses pursued and the grades attained.

Records of all students desiring professional credit with the State Department of Education will be sent to the Director of Certification immediately after the close of each term of the Summer School, provided record cards, furnished for this purpose by the State Department of Education, have been carefully filled out by such students and turned in to the office of the registrar.

Teachers' Bureau

A Teachers' Bureau is maintained during the summer session for the benefit of teachers desiring a change in position. Many applications for teachers are received each year while the Summer School is in session, and many superintendents visit the Summer School for the purpose of employing well qualified teachers. In order that the management may keep closely in touch with available teachers and be enabled thereby to render prompt service to school officials applying for teachers, all well qualified applicants in attendance are invited to register with the Teachers' Bureau. A nominal fee is charged to cover a part of the cost of necessary incidentals. Each registrant will have the services of the Teachers' Bureau for one year beginning with the date of registration. Applicants are expected to file with the Bureau photograph and typewritten testimonials or letters of recommendation.

The Library

The University Library has occupied its new building since July, 1929. It now contains over 236,162 volumes and 3,310 periodicals are regularly received. The new building houses, aside from the general collection and reading rooms, the Rural Social Economics Library, the Education and Commerce Reading Rooms. A special room is devoted to North Carolina history. A separate room is provided for the use of students doing collateral reading in material reserved for their convenience by University instructors. One hundred study carrels are provided with the bookstacks for graduate students and faculty, to which assignment is made on application.

Graham Memorial Building will be open to Summer School students for social and recreational purposes.

The Gymnasium

During the Summer School the Gymnasium will be used for the classes in physical education and for social activities conducted under the auspices of the Y. W.-M. C. A.

The Infirmary

During the Summer School the University Infirmary will be open for the convenience of the students in attendance. The Infirmary will be under the direction of Dr. Eric A. Abernethy, Physician to the Summer School, and a Registered Nurse, who with an assistant, will be constantly in attendance. There will be no extra charge for the services of the Physician or of the Nurse, except in cases of prolonged and serious illness necessitating a special nurse. The Summer School Physician will be at the Infirmary two periods a day for consultation and advice. At these hours students of the Summer School will be given the opportunity to consult the Physician about any matters pertaining to their health.

Registration and Tuition Fees

Each matriculate in the Summer School is required to pay a flat registration fee of $15.00 for each term.

In addition to the registration fee, a tuition fee of $12.50* for each term will be charged all matriculates, who are not teachers in the schools of North Carolina, and all non-resident teachers. (For conditions under which free tuition is granted to teachers, see below under "Free Tuition for Teachers.") The payment of the $12.50* tuition fee will permit students to register for three summer school courses. If a fourth course is desired, an additional fee of $5.00 will be required. For a detailed statement of the various fees charged and the purposes for which they are charged see below under "Summary of Fees and Expenses."

Train Schedules

There are two trains a day, except Sunday, from the University Station to Chapel Hill. The noon train arrives at 11:05 and the afternoon train at 3:45. Those who can conveniently do so would do well to arrange their trip so as to reach Chapel Hill on the noon train. Be sure to buy your ticket to Chapel Hill Station and have your baggage checked to this point (and not to the University station, which is ten miles or more from the University).

Delivery of Baggage

The Summer School management will deliver the baggage of students at their dormitories, provided their checks are given only to the official representative of the Summer School at University Station or at Chapel Hill Station. During the registration periods a Bureau of Information will be maintained at University Station, and an official representative of the Summer School will be on hand to take up baggage checks and give such information as incoming students may desire. Give your checks to this representative and your baggage will be delivered promptly and without charge if you occupy a room in one of the University dormitories. A charge will be made for trunks delivered off the campus.

Table Board

Good table board will be furnished at Swain Hall for $30.00 a term, payable at the beginning of the term. Seven hundred boarders can be accommodated at Swain Hall. Children from 1 to 8 years one-half price—$15.00 for 6 weeks. Children from 8 to 12 years two-thirds price—$20.00 for 6 weeks. Children from 12 years up full price or $30.00 for 6 weeks.

Dormitory Accommodations

For the accommodation of ladies in attendance upon the Summer School the following buildings will be open: Spencer, Steele, Old East, Old West, Grimes, Manly, Mangum, Ruffin, Aycock, Graham, and Lewis Dormitories. Reservation of rooms may be made at any time.

For the accommodation of men in attendance upon the Summer School the following dormitories will be open: Battle, Vance, Pettigrew Dormitories, and the Graduate Club House (Mary Ann Smith Building).

Everett Dormitory will be held for married couples, with or without children. It contains 56 rooms and will accommodate 112 students.

Room rent in any of these buildings (except Spencer and Mary Ann Smith) is $7.50 per student for the term of six weeks, payable in advance.

Spencer Building (Women's Building)

The Cornelia Phillips Spencer Building will be open this summer to the Summer School. It contains a large social room, dining room, twenty-six double and eight single bedrooms. Running water is furnished in all rooms, and bath rooms are convenient. The arrangement is that of a large comfortable home. The rates are as follows: single room for six weeks $22.50, double room for six weeks $30.00 ($15.00 each) and board for six weeks is $35.00. All persons living in the Woman's Building are required to have meals in the dining room there. A deposit fee of $7.50 must be paid at time reservation is made, balance to be paid to Mrs. Stacy at the time of registration. Please make check payable to the University of North Carolina, and send to Mrs. M. H. Stacy.

Steele Building (For Women Graduate Students)

During the Summer School Steele Building is reserved for women graduate students. This building has 36 rooms and will accommodate 70 students, two to the room. The rental is $7.50 per occupant for the term of six weeks.

Old East Building contains 39 rooms and will accommodate 75 students.

Old West Building contains 39 rooms and will accommodate 75 students.

Grimes, Manly, Mangum, and Ruffin Dormitories contain 45 rooms each, and will accommodate 90 students each.

Aycock, Graham and Lewis Dormitories contain 56 rooms each, and will accommodate 112 students each.

Battle, Pettigrew, and Vance Dormitories contain 72 rooms en suite and will accommodate 144 students, 4 students to the suite.

During the summer session each of the dormitories for women will be in charge of a capable hostess who will see that the University's regulations regarding the health, comfort, and safety of the students are carried out, and who will be always ready to give the young ladies such advice and assistance as they may need.

Graduate Club House

Mary Ann Smith Building which was formerly a dormitory has been converted into a club house for male graduate students. Rental in this building (2 persons to a room) is $15.00 per man for the term of six weeks. A deposit fee of $7.50 should be made in order to secure reservations, and the remainder of the rent ($7.50) will be payable at the beginning of occupancy. Occupants of the building are required to take meals in the Club Dining Room, where the rate is $30.00 per month. Applications for reservations in Smith Building should be made to the Secretary of the Graduate Club, Chapel Hill, N. C.

Regulations Concerning Women Students

All women students of the Summer School under 24 years of age, except residents of the Chapel Hill community who live at home, are required to live in the University dormitories.

Wherever women students of the Summer School reside they are under the supervision of the Adviser to Women and the hostesses, and are expected to conform to the general regulations prescribed for women students.

Reservations Must Be Made in Advance

Students desiring rooms in the University buildings must have their reservations made in advance, or the management cannot guarantee to them accommodations. Each application for a reservation should be accompanied by a check for $7.50 to cover room rent for the term. Make all checks payable to the University of North Carolina. Application should be made to the Director of the Summer School prior to June 1, in order that applicants may be notified before leaving home whether or not their reservations have been made as requested.

Those who find it necessary to communicate with the Summer School office by telephone about reservations should call Miss Lillian Long, Assistant Secretary, through whom all dormitory reservations for the Summer School are made.

What the Student Must Furnish

Students occupying rooms in the University dormitories must furnish their own bed-linen, pillows, towels, etc. Each student who secures a room in one of these dormitories will be expected to bring the following articles:

1 pillow.
2 pairs pillow-cases.
2 pairs of sheets (for single bed).
2 counterpanes.
6 towels.

Laundry Department: Deposit

The University owns and operates a modern laundry which is conducted on a strictly scientific basis. Students (except those who live with their families in Chapel Hill) are required to send their work to the University laundry. A laundry deposit of $6.00 to be paid at the time of registration is required of each student, against which a charge is made for the work done. If the amount of work done exceeds the amount of this deposit, the student is required to pay the excess. If the amount of work done is less than the deposit, the balance is refunded, except that a minimum average charge of twenty-five cents a week will be made.

All work is accepted on piece-price basis. The charges are exceedingly reasonable and are made strictly in accordance with the cost of operation. This enables the students to get their laundry work at a cost below the usual commercial prices.

The laundry accepts complete responsibility for all goods entrusted to its care and will pay for any articles lost or damaged.

Books and Materials

Students of the Summer School will be expected to provide themselves with all books and materials required for their individual use in the courses pursued. Most of the texts to be used are announced in connection with the description of the various courses. Students may procure their books before coming to the Summer School, or they may get them here at the Book Exchange, at the usual market prices.

Schedule

In the Summer School schedule the day is divided into periods as follows:

MORNING HOURS

First Period	8:00 to 9:00
Second Period	9:00 to 10:00
Third Period	10:00 to 11:00
Fourth Period	11:00 to 12:00
Fifth Period	12:00 to 1:00

AFTERNOON HOURS

First Period	2:00 to 3:00
Second Period	3:00 to 4:00
Third Period	4:00 to 5:00
Fourth Period	5:00 to 6:00

A daily schedule of recitations showing the hours and places of meeting for the various classes should be secured by each student at the time of registration.

Vesper Service

The University Summer School recognizes the daily vesper service as the official devotional period for the campus. Vesper service will be held immedately following supper each evening, except Saturday and Sunday, on the lawn under Davie poplar, or in Gerrard Hall in case of rain. This service will be of fifteen minutes length, and will consist of songs, scripture reading, and prayer. Attendance is voluntary. There will be no chapel service apart from the vesper service.

Recreation and Entertainment

In addition to the regular courses of instruction scheduled in the various departments, there will be some form of recreation and entertainment provided each week while the Summer School is in session.

Reduced Fares

Reduced railroad rates on the round trip identification plan have been authorized from all stations in Alabama, Georgia, North Carolina, South Carolina, and Virginia, except those on A. & St. A. B., C. & W. C. and W.-S. S. B.; also from Washington, D. C., Copperhill and Tennga, Tennessee.

Expenses for Each Term

Not counting the cost of such variable items of expense as board, travel, books and materials (including laboratory fees), and laundry, and excluding all other incidental and extra charges, the fixed items of expense, each term for those who live in the college dormitories are as follows:

Expenses	(Term of Six Weeks)
Room Rent in University Dormitory, other than Spencer Hall or Graduate Club	$ 7.50
Board at Swain Hall	30.00
Fees:
North Carolina Teachers	15.00
North Carolina students and non-resident teachers	27.50
Non-resident students	40.00

A Laundry Deposit of $6.00 will be made by the student at the time of registration.

Free Tuition for Teachers†

Teachers now in service in the schools of North Carolina and residents of the State who are preparing to teach may be exempt from the payment of the $12.50 tuition fee under the following conditions:

† The word "teacher" as here used is meant to include not only teachers but principals, supervisors, and superintendents.

1. They must be eligible to enter the Summer School.
2. They must file an application for the tuition exemption at the time of registration.
3. Residents of the State who are preparing to teach will be required to sign the usual teacher's agreement to teach in North Carolina or to pay the tuition within a given length of time in case they do not teach.
4. Those who are not residents of the State, but who at the time of registration have been employed to teach in North Carolina for the year 1932-1933 will be accorded the same free tuition privileges as if they were residents of the State preparing to teach.
5. All students availing themselves of the free tuition privilege for teachers will be required to satisfy the State's professional requirements for the class of certificate they are seeking, or the professional requirements for that class of certificate next above the class of certificate now held. This does not mean that the professional requirements must be met in full in the summer of 1931, but they must be met by the time the academic requirements for the next higher class of certificate are met.

Summary of Fees and Expenses

In all cases, unless otherwise noted, the fees listed below are to be paid to the University Treasurer at the time of registraton or at the time the service for which the fee is charged is rendered.

1. Registration Fee, $15.00. Required of all registrants.
2. Tuition Fee, $12.50. Required of all except teachers. See Free Tuition for Teachers, above.
3. Extra Tuition Fee, $5.00. Required of those only in the College and Graduate Division allowed to register for more than 3 courses.
4. Late Registration, $2.50 to $5.00. Required of every student in the First Term registering after June 11, and of every student in the Second Term registering after July 22. See Calendar.
5. Changes in Registration, 25 cents each. After June 11 a charge of 25 cents will be made for each change a student makes in his registration for the first term. After July 22 the same charge will be made for each change in registration for the second term.
6. Laundry Deposit, $6.00. Required of all registrants. This fee may be refunded to students who live at home and have their laundry work done elsewhere than at the University Laundry. See under Laundry Department.
7. Room Rent, $7.50. This is paid through the office of the Director at the time the reservation is made. See Spencer Hall and Graduate Club above.
8. Table Board, $30.00. A flat charge for board at Swain Hall for each term of the Summer School. Payable to the Treasurer at the time of registration by those desiring board at Swain Hall.
9. Music Fees. These vary for different courses. (See list of courses offered by the Department of Music.) In addition to the tuition fees a special fee of $2.00 for the term is charged those desiring assignment to a practice room. All music fees are paid at the office of the Department of Music.
10. Diploma Fee, $5.00. Required of all those graduating.

11. Laboratory Fees. These vary for the different departments and for different courses in the same department. They are as follows:

Refund of Fees

1. Fees paid in advance for room reservation for the first term will be refunded on application up to and including June 3 but not after that date, and for the second term, up to and including July 9.
2. If for any reason, a student, after registering, finds it necessary to withdraw from the Summer School, registration and tuition fees, on application presented within the dates specified below, will be refunded, but in strict accordance with the following regulations:
   (1) If application is made on the day of registration the amount paid, less a flat overhead charge of $2.50, will be refunded.
   (2) If application is made within a period of 4 days after class work begins, a flat overhead charge of $10.00 will be deducted from the amount paid and the remainder refunded.
   (3) After a period of 4 days from the time class work for the term begins, no refund of registration and tuition fees will be made, except in the case of illness necessitating the student's withdrawal, in which case a proper adjustment will be made within a period of 10 days after class work begins, subject to the approval of the Administrative Board.

(4) In case of a student's withdrawal from the Summer School, proper adjustment will be made in the charges for table board, laboratory fees, and laundry fees. After necessary deductions are determined by the department concerned in each instance, appropriate refunds of any unused part of such charges or fees will be made to the student.

(5) Extra fees paid for late registration may not be refunded for any reason except by action of the Administrative Board.

PART II—COLLEGE AND GRADUATE DIVISION

The letter s, meaning summer, is prefixed to the numbers of courses to distinguish them from the numbers employed in the annual catalogue to designate the courses of the regular college year.

The letter C indicates that a course may be counted toward the bachelor's degree in the appropriate School or College of this University as indicated by the Roman numerals added after the statement of the amount of credit carried by the particular course. The letter E in the case of French and Spanish courses indicates that entrance credit is given. In this scheme of numerals I means College of Liberal Arts; II, School of Educaton; III, School of Commerce; IV, Pre-medical course, or for S.B. in Medicine; V, School of Applied Science; VI, School of Engineering; the abbreviation G indicates that a course so marked is of graduate grade and may be counted toward the master's degree.

In this Announcement in the listing of courses under the several departments we are giving the new numbers followed in parentheses by the old numbers. In case of courses not listed last year no old numbers are shown.

This course will deal primarily with Greek Sculpture, but Greek Painting and Vases will also be studied. Lectures illustrated with lantern slides, and required reading.

* For other related courses, see under Greek and Comparative Literature.

ASTRONOMY

Course for Undergraduates

s14. Astronomy.
Credit, 1 course. Ten lectures a week. First term. Mr. Fussler. Hours: Lectures, 10:00 and 12:00 daily. Junior-Senior elective.

BOTANY

Courses for Undergraduates

s1 or s41. General Botany.
Credit, 1 course. C. I, II, III, IV, V. Four lectures and four laboratory hours a week. Through both terms. Laboratory fee, $4.00. First term, Mr. Couch and Mr. Matthews. Second term, Mr. Totten and Mr. Matthews. Hours: Lectures, 11:00 T., W., Th. and F. Laboratory 3:00 to 5:00 T. and Th.
This course is an introduction to the structure, physiology and classification of plants. Study will be made of the algae, fungi, bacteria, mosses, ferns, and seed plants. Lectures with laboratory and field work. A part of the work will be out of doors in a study of the trees, shrubs, vines and herbs of Chapel Hill. This course covers much the same ground and carries the same credit as Botany 1 or Botany 41 given in the fall and spring quarters. Freshmen, Sophomore, Junior and Senior elective.

s43. Structure and Classification of Seed Plants.
Credit, 1 course. C. I, II, III, IV, V. Three lectures and six laboratory hours a week. Through both terms. Laboratory fee, $4.00. First term, Mr. Couch or Mr. Matthews. Second term, Mr. Totten. Hours: Lectures, 2:00 M., W. and F. Laboratory, 3:00 to 5:00 M., W. and F. Prerequisite, General Botany.
This course is a continuation of Botany s1, with more advanced work in the structure and classification of seed plants. Special attention will be given to the study of the local flora and of the introduced ornamental plants found in the Arboretum. The greenhouse and nursery as well as the laboratory will be used. This course covers much the same ground and carries the same credit as Botany 43 given in the spring quarter. Sophomore, Junior and Senior elective.

Courses for Graduates and Advanced Undergraduates

s103. Structure and Classification of the Algae.
Credit, 1 or ½ course. C. I, II, III, IV, V, or G. Two lectures or reports and six laboratory or field work hours a week. Through both terms. Laboratory fee $4.00. First term, Mr. Couch. Second term, Mr. Totten.
Prerequisite, General Botany. Hours to be arranged.

s114. Structure and Development of the Fungi.
Credit, 1 course. C. I, II, III, IV, V, or G. Lectures, reports and laboratory work. First term. Laboratory fee, $4.00. Mr. Couch.
Prerequisite, General Botany. Hours to be arranged.

s154. Advanced Work in the Structure and Classification of the Seed Plants.
Credit, 1 course. C. I, II, III, IV, V, or G. Field work, laboratory work, conferences and reports. Second term, Mr. Totten. Laboratory fee, $4.00.
Prerequisites, General Botany and Botany 43 or s43.

* (Freshmen take Botany s1; sophomores, juniors and seniors take s41.)

Courses Primarily for Graduates

s214. Morphology and Physiology of the Fungi.
Credit, 1 course. G. Lectures, reports, and laboratory work. First term. Laboratory fee, $4.00. Mr. Couch.

s254. Morphology of Seed Plants.
Credit, 1 course. G. Lectures, reports, and laboratory work. Second term. Laboratory fee, $4.00. Mr. Totten.

CHEMISTRY

Courses for Undergraduates

s2. General Descriptive Chemistry.
Credit, 1 course. C. I, II, III, IV, V, VI. Four lectures and four laboratory hours a week. This course is open to students who have completed Chemistry 1. Through both terms. First term, Mr. Crockford. Second term, Mr. Edmister. Laboratory fee, $5.50. Hours: Lectures, 9:00 M., W., F., S. Laboratory, 2:00 to 4:00 M., W.
Second Part of General Descriptive Chemistry.

s31. Qualitative Analysis.
Credit, 1 course. C. I, II, IV, V, VI. Prerequisite Chemistry 1 and 2. Five lectures and fifteen laboratory hours a week. First term. Mr. Dobbins. Laboratory fee, $10.00. Hours: Lectures, 2:00 daily. Laboratory, 3:00 to 6:00 daily.

s42. Quantitative Analysis.
Credit, 1 course. C. I, II, IV, V, VI. Prerequisite Chemistry 31. Five lectures and fifteen laboratory hours a week. First term. Mr. Dobbins. Laboratory fee, $10.00. Hours: Lectures, 12:00 daily. Laboratory, 3:00 to 6:00 daily.

s61. Organic Chemistry.
Credit, 1 course. C. I, II, IV, V, VI. Prerequisite Chemistry 31. Six lectures and twelve laboratory hours a week. First term. Mr. Bost. Laboratory fee, $10.00. Hours: Lectures, 8:00 daily. Laboratory, 10:00 to 12:00 daily.
Chemistry of the aliphatic compounds.

s62. Organic Chemistry.
Credit, 1 course. C. I, II, IV, V, VI. Prerequisite Chemistry 61. Six lectures and twelve laboratory hours a week. Second term. Mr. Wheeler. Laboratory fee, $10.00. Hours: Lectures, 8:00 daily. Laboratory, 10:00 to 12:00 daily.
Chemistry of the aromatic compounds.

s81. Physical Chemistry.
Given in alternate years (not given in 1932). Credit, 1 course. C. I, II, IV, V, VI.

s82. Physical Chemistry.
Given in alternate years (given in 1932). Credit, 1 course. C. I, II, IV, V, VI. Prerequisite Chemistry 81. Six lectures and twelve laboratory hours a week. First term. Mr. Crockford. Hours: Lectures, 11:00 daily. Laboratory, 2:00 to 6:00 M., W., F.
Chemical kinetics and statics. Electrochemistry.

Courses for Graduates and Advanced Undergraduates

s167. Advanced Organic Preparations.
Credit, ½ course. C. I, II, IV, V, VI or G. Prerequisite Chemistry 62. Twelve laboratory hours a week. First term. Mr. Bost. Laboratory fee, $10.00. Hours to be arranged.

s168. Advanced Organic Preparations.
Credit, ½ course. C. I, II, IV, V, VI or G. Prerequisite Chemistry 62. Twelve laboratory hours a week. First term. Mr. Bost. Laboratory fee, $10.00. Hours to be arranged.

s169. Quantitative Organic Analysis.
Credit, ½ course. C. I, II, IV, V, VI or G. Prerequisite Chemistry 63. Twelve laboratory hours a week. Second term. Mr. Wheeler. Laboratory fee, $7.00. Hours to be arranged.

s183. Physical Chemistry.
Given in alternate years (not given in 1932). Credit, 1 course. C. I, or G.

s184. Physical Chemistry.
Given in alternate years (given in 1932). Credit, 1 course. C. I. or G. Mr. Crockford. Prerequisite Chemistry 81 and 82. Hours: 8:00 to 10:00 daily.
Electrochemistry.

Courses for Graduates

s251. Advanced Inorganic Chemistry.
Credit, ½ course. G. Second term. Mr. Edmister.
Seminar dealing with recent advanced in Inorganic Chemistry.

s261. Advanced Organic Chemistry.
Credit, ½ course. G. Second term. Mr. Wheeler.
Seminar dealing with recent advanced in Organic Chemistry.

s351. Research in Inorganic Chemistry.
Credit, 1 course. G. Second term. Mr. Edmister. Laboratory fee, $10.00.

s361. Research in Organic Chemistry.
Credit, 1 course. G. First term, and second term. Mr. Bost and Mr. Wheeler. Laboratory fee, $10.00.

s381. Research in Physical Chemistry.
Credit, 1 course. G. First term. Mr. Crockford. Laboratory fee, $10.00.

COMMERCE AND ECONOMICS

COMMERCE

Courses for Undergraduates

s51. Business Organization.
Credit, 1 course. C. III. Ten hours a week. First term. Mr. Schwenning. Hours: 9:00 and 11:00 daily.
Prerequisite, Economics 31-32.
The forms of business organization with emphasis on the corporation. The external relations of a business organization and the internal coordination of the factors in production with a view to the establishment of effective control and definite responsibility for results. Special attention will be directed to the various functions to be performed, such as production, finance, personnel, marketing, risk-taking, and records and standards.

s71. Accounting Principles.
Credit, 1 course. C. III. Ten hours a week. First term. Laboratory fee, $3.00. Mr. Peacock. Hours: 2:00 to 4:00 daily.
Prerequisite or corequisite, Economics 31-32, Commerce 51.
Lectures with laboratory work. Study of the theory of debit and credit, record making, organization of accounts, and presentation of financial and profit and loss statements. Laboratory exercises in accounting problems and technique.

s72. Accounting Principles (Continued).
Credit, 1 course. C. III. Ten hours a week. Second term. Laboratory fee, $3.00. Mr. Sherrill. Hours: 2:00 to 4:00 daily.
Prerequisite, Commerce 71.
Lectures with laboratory work. An approach to accounting problems from the business manager's point of view. It consists of a thorough study of the organization of the accounting department of a business and its relation to the other departments, accounting systems, construction and analysis of accounting statements. The principles of valuation of assets, depreciation, and bonds are also covered.

ECONOMICS

Courses for Undergraduates

s31. General Economics.
Credit, 1 course. (Not counted for credit without Economics 32.) C. I, II, III, IV, V. Ten hours a week. First term. Mr. Evans. Hours: 8:00 and 10:00 daily.
This course covers the same ground as Economics 31 in the regular session and is planned to give an understanding of the general principles underlying our complicated industrial life. The first part of the course deals with the organization of economic society. This survey is followed by a critical analysis of certain phases of the economic process, production, consumption, and the market.

s32. General Economics (Continued).
Credit, 1 course. C. I, II, III, IV, V. Ten hours a week. Second term. Mr. Evans. Hours: 8:00 and 10:00 daily.
Prerequisite, Economics 31.
The subject matter of this course is the same as that of Economics 32 in the regular session. The analysis of the economic process started in Economics 31 is continued and completed. The exchange and distributive processes are examined. The remainder of the course will deal with the problems of monopoly and combination, transportation, labor, public finance, and economic reform. The object will be to give the student an understanding of the fundamental aspects of these subjects, sufficient for a comprehensive, well-organized basis for independent constructive thinking, or an adequate foundation for advanced study in the field of economics and industry.

s81. Money and Currency.
Credit, 1 course. (Not counted for credit without Economics 82.) C. I, III, IV, V. Ten hours a week. First term. Mr. Winslow. Hours: 8:00 and 10:00 daily.
Prerequisite, Economics 31-32.
Origin and functions of money. The standard problem. Relationship between money and prices. Economic principles governing the issuance and retirement of credit money. International gold movements. Inflation and deflation. Effects of the war upon the world's monetary systems.

s82. Banking and Credit.
Credit, 1 course. C. I, II, III, IV, V. Ten hours a week. Second term. Mr. Woosley. Hours: 9:00 and 11:00 daily.
Prerequisite, Economics 31-32 and 81.
The place of the commercial bank in the economic organization. Functions and major operations of a bank. Relationships between loans and discounts, deposits, reserves, capital, and surplus. Process of financing the business man. Investigating the credit risk; determining the line of credit. The banking system as a whole; clearing house associations, correspondent banks, bankers' banks, the Federal Reserve System. Government control of banking.

Courses for Graduates and Advanced Undergraduates

s141. Public Finance.
Credit, 1 course. C. I, II, III, IV, V, or G. Ten hours a week. Second term. Mr. Keister. Hours: 9:00 and 11:00 daily.
Prerequisite, Economics 31-32.
A general study of government business covering the principles involved in public revenues and expenditures—local, state, and national; a treatment of the just distribution of public charges and their incidence; and a study of the growth and organization of modern tax systems.

s151. Transportation.
Credit, 1 course. C. I, II, III, IV, or G. Ten hours a week. First term. Mr. Heath. Hours: 8:00 and 10:00 daily.
Prerequisite, Economics 31-32.
A general study, from the historical and critical points of view, of railway transportation in such representative countries as Great Britain, France, Italy, Germany, and the United States; with some consideration of passenger and freight traffic and rates, and the State's relation to railways.

s191. Labor Problems.
Credit, 1 course. C. I, II, III, IV, V, or G. Ten hours a week. Second term. Mr. Wolf. Hours: 8:00 and 10:00 daily.
Prerequisite, Economics 31-32.
To the extent that the competitive wage system fails (a) to provide for the laborer an adequate basis for a decent living and (b) to draw from him the services he ought to render to industry, there appears to be a "labor problem." The purpose of this course is to make an analytic survey of the modern labor problem in its major aspects, such as unemployment, low wages, industrial accidents and diseases, overstrain and superannuation, and the status of the worker in industrial society. Trade unionism and the labor movement and intervention by the state in behalf of the workers, social methods of coping with the problems of labor, are also surveyed.

s195. Theories of Economic Reform.
Credit, 1 course. C. I, II, III, IV, or G. Ten hours a week. First term. Mr. Carroll. Hours: 9:00 and 11:00 daily.
Prerequisite, Economics 31-32.
The object of this course will be to examine critically the most prominent of the current proposals of economic reform, such as socialism, Bolshevism, the single tax, profit sharing and labor copartnerships, and industrial democracy. This course may be taken by those who wish neither college nor graduate credit.

s197. Government and Business.
Credit, 1 course. C. I, II, III, IV, or G. Ten hours a week. First term. Mr. Hobbs. Hours: 9:00 and 11:00 daily.
Prerequisite, Economics 31-32, Government 21.
A study of the evolution of governmental policy towards business, with a critical examination of current governmental regulation and supervision of industry and trade. Some attention is given to the services which modern governments undertake to render to the business life of their citizens and the agencies developed for this purpose.

Courses for Graduates

s301a. Seminar in Advanced Economic Theory.
Credit, ½ course. C. G. Five hours a week. First term. Mr. Heath. Hours to be arranged.

s302b. Seminar in Human Relations in Industry.
Credit, ½ course. C. G. Five hours a week. Second term. Mr. Wolf. Hours to be arranged.

COMPARATIVE LITERATURE

s61. History of Greek Literature, with Emphasis on the Epic and Drama.
Credit, ½ course. C. I, II. Five hours a week. First term. Mr. Bernard. Hour: 9:00 daily.

EDUCATION

Courses for Undergraduates

s31. Introduction to Educational Psychology.
Credit, 1 course. C. I, II, III. Five hours a week. Through both terms. Mr. Hunter. Hour: 11:00 daily.
Education is viewed in this course as a series of changes in individual pupils. The elementary principles of educational psychology will be illustrated and studied briefly through assigned readings, experiments, and discussions.

s31a. Introduction to Educational Psychology (First half of Education s31).
Credit, ½ course. C. I, II, III. Five hours a week. Second term. Mr. Hunter. Hour: 12:00 daily.

s31b. Introduction to Educational Psychology (Second half of Education s31).
Credit, ½ course. C. I, II, III. Five hours a week. First term. Mr. Hunter. Hour: 12:00 daily.

s51P*. Reading and Study Habits for the Primary Grades.
Credit, 1 course. C. II. Ten hours a week. Both terms. Miss Bason. Hours: 9:00 to 11:00 daily.
A study of the problems in beginning reading: the various methods of teaching reading and developing effective study habits.

s52G. Reading and Study Habits for the Grammar Grades.
Credit, 1 course. C. II. Ten hours a week. First term. Miss Parrott. Hours: 11:00 to 1:00 daily.
The aim of this course is to acquaint the student with the materials and methods of teaching reading as a means of extending the experiences of boys and girls, of stimulating good thinking and arousing interest in a wide variety of reading activites.

s53Xa. Materials and Methods of Teaching Social Science.
Credit, ½ course. C. II. Five hours a week. First term. Miss Jones. Hour: 10:00 daily.

---

* The letter "P" when used in connection with the number of a course means that the course is intended for teachers of the Primary Grades; the letter "G," that the course is intended for teachers of the Grammar Grades; and the letter "X," that the course is intended for teachers of either Primary or Grammar Grades.

The first half (Part a) is designed to give a thorough survey of recent experiments and special studies in subject matter and methods in geography, history, and citizenship. Suggestions will be given for utilizing daily activities to develop civic virtues.

s53Xb. Materials and Methods of Teaching Natural Science.
Credit, ½ course. C. II. Five hours a week. First term. Miss Parrott. Hour: 9:00 daily.

The second half of this course (Part b) deals with natural science and health. The general principles controlling the selection of material and the organization for each grade will be presented. The methods of presenting the subject matter will be demonstrated in connection with certain typical material.

s54Pa. Arithmetic, Primary Numbers and Projects.
Credit, ½ course. C. II. Five hours a week. First term. Miss Marks. Hour: 8:00 daily.

The first half of this course (Part a) will emphasize the development of number concept in primary grades. The place of drill; kind and amount of formal arithmetic in these grades; projects and activities as a basis for the formal number work.

s54Pb. Language for Primary Grades.
Credit, ½ course. C. II. Five hours a week. Each term. Miss Bason. Hour: 12:00 daily.

The object of the second half (Part b) of this course is to teach self-expression of oral and written language in life-like situations. Projects and other activities are made a basis of this work. The educational value of dramatization will be stressed.

s55Ga. Arithmetic for Grammar Grades.
Credit, ½ course. C. II. Five hours a week. First term. Miss Marks. Hour: 8:00 daily.

The first half of this course (Part a) will give a careful study of the investigations revealing the course of mathematical facts which are necessary for all people to acquire, also methods of teaching these facts thoroughly.

s55Gb. Language and Composition for the Grammar Grades.
Credit, ½ course. C. II. Five hours a week. Each term. Miss Hufham. Hour: 11:00 daily.

The second half (Part b) aims to study means of speaking effectively and pleasingly. Written language, obtaining good form through genuine use, including composition, writing, and spelling. A study will be made of: (1) Various vocabulary studies; (2) How to encourage pupils to make use of words learned; and (3) How best to measure the results of teaching.

s63. Classroom Management.
Credit, ½ course. C. II or G. Five hours a week. Each term. First term, Mr. Greene. Second term, Miss Sheehan. Hour: 11:00 daily.

This course takes up for investigation and discussion the teacher's problems in managing her classroom. It does not deal with instructional problems, which are considered in the courses in materials and methods, nor with the administration of a school, which is considered in other courses. But it does consider specifically the organization and direction of pupils and equipment in a classroom.

s71. Educational Psychology.
Credit, 1 course. C. I, II, III. Four lectures and two laboratory hours a week. Through both terms. First term, Mr. Garinger. Second term, Mr. Garrison. Hours: Lectures, 11:00 daily; Laboratory, Monday, 2:00 to 4:00.

To consider critically such topics as the original nature of man, heredity versus environment, kinds of learning and factors influencing learning, individual differences, mental hygiene, mental measurement is the purpose of this course.

s71a. Educational Psychology (First half of Education s71).
Credit, ½ course. C. I, II, III. Five hours a week. Each term. First term, Mr. Garinger. Second term, Mr. Garrison. Hour: 8:00 daily.

s71b. Educational Psychology (Second half of Education s71).
Credit, ½ course. C. I, II, III. Five hours a week. First term, Mr. Garinger. Hour: 10:00 daily.

s81. Materials and Methods of Teaching High School English.
Credit, 1 course. C. II. Ten hours a week. Each term, Mr. Farrar. Hours: 10:00 to 12:00 daily.
This course is designed to give practical preparation for the teaching of English in high schools. It includes consideration of the aims, courses of study, and methods found most effective in the teaching of grammar, composition (oral and written), and the different types of literature to pupils of high school age.

s89. Materials and Methods of Teaching High School Mathematics.
Credit, 1 course. C. II. Five hours a week. Through both terms. Mr. Munch. Hour: 8:00 daily.
A course designed to give those preparing to teach Mathematics in high school a comprehensive view of that field. It is composed of Six Units as follows: History of Mathematics, Objectives of Mathematics Teaching, Materials, Methods, the Psychology of Mathematics Teaching, and Measuring in the field of Mathematics. Reading and reports on these units will be required.

s91. Materials and Methods of Teaching High School Science.
Credit, 1 course. C. II. Ten hours a week. Each term. Mr. Preston. Hours: 10:00 to 12:00 daily.
This course will consider the educational preparation of the science teacher, the historical development of secondary school science—its changing aims and organization of materials—as a background for the understanding of present-day aims; the influence of these aims upon selection of subject-matter, methods of organizing and presenting it, and of testing results. Specimen teaching units, selected from the different sciences, will be prepared by students and discussed as to content, method, and use of materials.

s98. General Methods in Secondary Education.
Credit, 1 course. C. I, II. Five hours a week. Through both terms. ———— Hour: 11:00 daily.
This course deals with a general survey of the nature of the secondary school pupil and of the nature of the subject matter taught in secondary schools; a study of the laws of learning which underlie and determine the conduct of the recitation and the management of the class. Considerable attention is given to the types of learning involved in the different high school subjects and economical methods of instruction. Textbooks, lectures, assigned readings, and reports.

s99. Principles of Secondary Education.
Credit, 1 course. C. I, II. Five hours a week. Through both terms. Mr. ————. Hour: 9:00 daily.
A study of the American high school, its evolution, organization, administration, functions, and problems. Special emphasis will be laid on the public high school in North Carolina. This course is designed especially to meet the needs of those students who are looking toward teaching positions and principalships in secondary schools.

Courses for Graduates and Advanced Undergraduates

s101. Introductory Course in School Administration.
Credit, 1 course. C. I, II, or G. Five hours a week. Both terms. First term, Mr. Howard. Second term, Mr. Cook. Hour: 8:00 daily.

This course will consider some of the important problems of school administration, especially as these problems bear on the success of the teacher's work. Students without teaching experience, or teachers without a knowledge of administrative problems, should not register for the more specialized courses in the field of administration until after completing this course.

s102. The Elementary School Principalship.
Credit, 1 course. C. I, II, or G. Ten hours a week. Second term. Mr. Morrison. Hours: 11:00 to 1:00 daily.

The personal qualifications, previous experience, duties, and opportunities of the school principal are studied during the early meeting of this course. The organization of the school program, of the instructional staff, and of the housekeeping staff are then considered in relation to their effects on pupil development. The direction and administration of various elements in the school receive maximum attention in the class. Discussions of experiences, observations, assigned readings, and special reports.

s103. Elements of Statistical Methods.
Credit, 1 course. C. I, II, or G. Five hours a week. Through both terms. Mr. Munch. Hour: 9:00 daily.

The first meetings in this course will consider various methods of collecting data for education, psychological, social, and economic investigations. The interpretation of data by graphic and mathematical devices will be taught chiefly by examples. Numbering, tabulation, the calculation of averages and variabilities, the transmutation of measures, and correlations will be included. Readings, demonstrations, problems, reports, and critical discussion.

s105. Guidance and Administration of Pupils.
Credit, 1 course. C. II, or G. Ten hours a week. First term. Mr. Morrison. Hours: 11:00 to 1:00 daily.

This course undertakes not only to acquaint the student with the extensive literature of scientific research in pupil personnel work, but also to develop through actual handling of individual records, reports, and materiials as many as possible of the important skills required of the principal in the classification and promotion of pupils, program making, organization of pupil activities, student government, athletics, etc. Prerequisite: Four full courses in education, including one in administration, and two years successful teaching experience.

s108. State School Organization.
Credit, 1 course. C. I, II, or G. Ten hours a week. Second term. Mr. Cook. Hours: 11:00 to 1:00 daily.

This course takes up the fundamental principles of educational administration in their applications to the organization of state systems of education. This is the introductory course in school adminstration and is designed to meet the needs of experienced teachers, principals, supervisors, and superintendents. Textbooks, assigned readings, reports and discussions.

s141. Education in the South.
Credit, 1 course. C. I, II, or G. Five hours a week. Through both terms. Mr. Huggins. Hour: 12:00 daily.

This course gives an historical survey of public school eduction in Southern States with especial attention to its development in organization, administration, and supervision since 1876. Present-day questions in rural education are studied in the light of their historical development, and attention is given to the educational reorganization needed for the proper solution of the new rural life problems.

s142. Historical Foundations of Modern Education.
Credit, 1 course. C. I, II, or G. Five hours a week. Through both terms. Mr. Huggins. Hour: 11:00 daily.

This course traces the development of some of the more important educational problems of modern times as they have been affected by the social and political facts of history, by the contributions of the leading educational theorists, and by institutional practice. Textbooks, lectures, investigations, and reports.

s143. Social and Educational History of the United States.
Credit, 1 course. C. I, II, or G. Five hours a week. Through both terms. Mr. Huggins. Hour: 9:00 daily.

The social and educational institutions and practices of the United States are traced through: (a) The period of transplanting of European institutions; (b) the period of modifications of institutional life to meet new conditions; and (c) the period of development of a social and an educational system of free common schools, high schools, and higher and technical education in harmony with the political and social ideals and institutions of America. Textbook, lectures, investigations, and reports.

s160. Curriculum Construction.
Credit, 1 course. C. I, II, or G. Ten hours a week. Both terms. Mr. Tippitt. Hour: 8:00 to 10:00 daily.

The construction and organization of the elementary school curriculum when based upon human needs. Includes consideration of the teacher's function in curriculum construction, objectives of the school subjects, sources of curricular material and criteria for evaluating it, selection and organization of the pupil-activities through which the objectives may be attained.

s161. Project Activities in the Elementary Grades.
Credit, 1 course. C. 11, or G. Ten hours a week. Second term. Mr. McKee. Hours: 10:00 to 12:00 daily.

An attempt will be made in this course to develop criteria by which children's educational activities should be evaluated, the means by which they should be tested, and the principles governing procedures in activity work.

After the establishment of criteria for evaluating the activities of children, the activities listed in various project curricula and the activities suggested by the members of the class will be examined to determine the degrees to which they fulfill the requirements. A critical analysis will also be made of the procedures employed in developing and conducting various types of activities. Required readings, observations, discussions, and special reports.

s162. Teaching Pupils How to Study.
Credit, 1 course. C. II, or G. Ten hours a week. First Term. Mr. McKee. Hours: 10:00 to 12:00 daily.

The physical and environmental factors that condition effective study, the necessary preliminary preparations for study, techniques for discovering a pupil's present study habits in each subject-matter field, the evaluation and improvement of study habits and programs of study in each field, and techniques for the supervision of practice and growth in each type of study will be considered, practiced, and learned in this course. Investigations, observations, special reports, readings, and discussions. Prerequisite: Three or more courses in education, successful experience as a teacher, and satisfactory evidence of ability to conduct systematic investigations of pupils' study habits.

s163a. Evaluating Classroom Instruction.
Credit, 1 course. C. II, or G. Five hours a week. Both terms. First term, Miss Marks and Mr. Greene. Second term, Miss Marks. Hour: 10:00 daily.

The general and specific objectives of instruction are agreed upon in the early meetings of this course. Criteria are then developed for evaluating the materials, techniques, activities, and outcomes of instruction. The latter part of the course consists in applying the criteria to actual classroom lessons in an attempt to develop skill in observing, evaluating, and improving instruction.

s164ab. Measurements in Elementary Education.
Credit, ½ or 1 course. C. I, II. Five hours a week. Through both terms, Mr. Tippett. Hour: 11:00 daily.

Methods of measuring and improving the results of instruction in the elementary school will be given detailed consideration in this course. Students will be made acquainted with the most important tests and scales and will be given some experience in interpreting the results, both statistically and practically.

s165. Investigations in Reading.
Credit, 1 course. C. II, or G. Five hours a week. Through both terms. Miss Marks. Hour: 9:00 daily.

This course will deal more intensively with such phases of the subject as cannot receive adequate emphasis in the regular methods course. Among the topics which will receive special consideration are: recent investigations of reading abilities and their import; children's interests in reading; analysis of the content of readers now in use in school libraries; reading tests, diagnostic and remedial work.

s171. The Psychology of Elementary Education (Child Study).
Section I. Credit, 1 course. C. II, or G. Five hours a week. Through both terms. First term, Mr. Jordan. Second term, Mr. Garrison. Hour: 9:00 daily.

Psychological processes involved in the learning of reading, writing, arithmetic, history and geography. The application of the laws of learning is made to the arrangement of material within each subject. Students registering for this course should have had Education 31 or Psychology 21-22 and one further course in Education. This prerequisite may be waived in case of mature teachers.

s183. Materials and Methods of Teaching High School French.
Credit, 1 course. C. II, or G. Ten hours a week. First term, Mr. Giduz. Hours: 8:00 to 10:00 daily.

In this course the student studies the development of modern language teaching. Particular stress is laid on present-day tendencies, more especially in connection with pronunciation, phonetics, reading, "realia," activities, texts, etc. Weekly reports on readings. A term paper embodying the results of individual research will be required.

s185. Materials and Methods of Teaching High School History.
Credit, 1 course. C. II, or G. Five hours a week. Through both terms. Mr. King. Hour: 9:00 daily.

This course is required of all students in the School of Education who are preparing to teach high school history and the other social studies.

The aims, functions, and objectives of the social studies will be carefully analyzed and the history of their place in the American secondary school examined. Such problems as planning and organizing the course, textbooks, and library equipment, maps, pictures, and other visual aids will be considered. A term paper embodying the results of individual records will be required.

s187. Materials and Methods of Teaching High School Latin.
Credit, 1 course. C. II, or G. Ten hours a week. Second term. Mr. Gwynn. Hours: 10:00 to 12:00 daily.
History and tendencies of instruction in Latin, detailed study of high school Latin texts and methods of using them, supplementary reference materials, and bibliographies. Discussions and reports. This course is the same as Latin s187. A term paper embodying the results of individual research will be required.

s194 (s56). Measurements in Secondary Education.
Credit, 1 course. C. II, or G. Five hours a week. Through both terms. Mr. Jordan. Hour: 10:00 daily.
Standard tests for measuring the results of secondary school instruction will be examined and discussed. An effort will be made to give students some familiarity with the methods and scales of measurement.

s196 (s57). The High School Principalship.
Credit, 1 course. C. II, or G. Five hours a week. Through both terms. Mr. Mosher. Hour: 8:00 daily.
This course considers the duties, qualifications, and activities of the principal of a secondary school. Lectures, readings, discussions, investigations, and reports.

(a) Course s5a aims to provide the student with knowledge of and facility in the important methods and records of acquiring and caring for library materials; the organization of the school library; the purchase of supplies. (b) A continuation of course s5a dealing with the broader and more general aspects of school library administration, such as budgets and appropriations, school laws, personnel problems, acquisition of ephemeral material, planning of school libraries, etc.

s7ab. Cataloging and Classification for School Libraries.

Credit, 1 course; or each part, ½ course. C. II. Each part five hours a week. First term. Miss Budd. Hours: Lectures, s7a, 9:00; s7b, 10:00; laboratory, 3:00-4:30 daily.

(a) The aim of the course is to teach the student to be thoroughly familiar with (1) The principles and forms of cataloging by the unit card system; (2) assigning of subject headings; and (3) the principles of classification, together with their application in the effective administration of the library. (b) A continuation of s7a, amplifying the elementary principles and emphasizing special cataloging problems, i.e., cataloging of serials and government documents; study of subject headings, etc. Lectures, problems, daily supervised laboratory.

s111ab. Reference and Bibliography.

Credit, 1 course; or each part, ½ course. C. I, II. Five hours a week. Through both terms. Miss Foster. Hours: s111a, first term, 11:00 daily; s111b, second term, 10:00 daily.

This course aims thoroughly to familiarize students with basic bibliographical and reference works. There are problems, class discussions, and lectures on dictionaries, encyclopedias, periodical indexes, biographical dictionaries, government documents, and the most frequently used reference books on special subjects.

s122ab. Book Selection for Children's Libraries (Children's literature).

Credit, 1 course; or each part, ½ course. C. II. Five hours a week. Through both terms. Miss Beust. Hour: 9:00 daily.

In general, the aim of the course is to acquaint the students with children's reading in order that they may understand the varying appeals that books make to children and thus learn to select books with consideration for the different age groups and differing backgrounds of children. The importance of literature made by children, children's literary tradition, classics, modern and traditional fairy tales, poetry, nursery rhymes, fables and beast tales, myths, epics and sagas, romances, ballads, subject-matter books, illustrated books, books for story-telling, and the history of children's literature are indicated. Practice in the writing of book notes, oral reports, discussions, and lectures.

s123ab. Book Selection for High School Libraries.

Credit, 1 course; or each part, ½ course. C. II. Five hours a week. Through both terms. Miss Beust. Hour: 8:00 daily.

A survey of adolescent literature and a study of the reading interests of the adolescent, particularly during the high school years. A critical study of standard and classic books for the adolescent, and of reference books for this age group. Criteria for selecting books for adolescents with various reading backgrounds.

MATHEMATICS

Courses for Undergraduates

s1. (Alg.) College Algebra.

Credit, 1 course. C. I, II, III, IV, V. Five hours a week. Through both terms. First term, Mr. Hoyle. Second term, Mr. Hobbs. Hour: 9:00 daily.

Graphical methods, Quadratics, Complex Numbers, Introduction to Theory of Equations, Elementary Mathematics of Finance, Determinants. Mathematics s1 and s2 together are equivalent to Mathematics 1 and 2 in the General Catalogue.

s2. (Trig.) Plane Trigonometry.
Credit, 1 course. C. I, II, III, IV, V. Five hours a week. Through both terms. First term, Mr. Lasley. Second term, Mr. Browne. Hour: 12:00 daily.
A general course dealing with trigonometric functions, unit circle, radian measure, identities, equations, angle sum and difference formulas, with especial attention to the solution of triangles, right and oblique.

s13. Analytic Geometry.
Credit, 1 course. C. I, II, III, IV, V. Five hours a week. Through both terms. First term, Mr. Mackie. Second term, Mr. Hill. Hour: 10:00 daily.
The algebraic or analytic method in geometry. Special stress is put upon the locus of an equation and the equation of a locus. The conic sections are studied as well as various other curves, especially the exponential and periodic types.

s24. Differential Calculus.
Credit, 1 corse. C. I, II, III, IV. Five hours a week. Through both terms. First term, Mr. Winsor. Second term, Mr. Hill. Hour: 8:00 daily.
The derivatives of functions and their application to geometry and mechanics.

s25. Integral Calculus.
Credit, 1 course. C. I, II, III, IV, V. Five hours a week. Through both terms. First term, Mr. Mackie. Second term, Mr. Hill. Hour: 12:00 daily.
This course centers around the idea of definite integral, considering in detail problems arising in geometry and the physical sciences, including length of curves, areas, volumes, moment of inertia, etc.

Courses for Graduates and Advanced Undergraduates

s103. (Geom.) Introduction to Modern Geometry.
Credit, ½ course. C. I, II, III, or G. Five hours a week. First term. Mr. Winsor. Hour: 11:00 daily.
This is a teacher's course for graduate credit, especially devised for teachers who are candidates for the M.A. degree. The course deals with the properties of the triangle and circle from the modern point of view, poles and polars, harmonic division, transformation by reciprocal radii, Brocard points and circles, etc.

s105. History of Mathematics.
Credit, ½ course. C. I, II, III, or G. Five hours a week. First term. Mr. Mackie. Hour: 8:00 daily.
The historical development of the main topics of arithmetic, algebra, geometry, trigonometry, analytical geometry, and the calculus. Biographical sketches of noted mathematicians.

s106. The Teaching of Mathematics.
Credit, ½ course. C. I, II, III, or G. Five hours a week. Second term. Mr. Munch. Hour: 8:00 daily.
The purpose, value, and content of courses in high school mathematics; applications of mathematics; junior high school mathematics. Recent changes in the methods of studying mathematics. A careful study will be made of the recommendations of The National Committee on Mathematical Requirements.

s141. Differential Equations. Prerequisite, Mathematics 25.
Credit, 1 course. C. I, II, III, or G. Five hours a week. Through both terms. First term, Mr. Winsor. Second term, Mr. Browne. Hour: 9:00 daily.

This is a course both for students intending to specialize in mathematics and for students in advanced engineering, civil, electrical, and chemical. Among the subjects treated are singular solutions, applications to mechanics, geometry and physics, linear equations with both constant and variable co-efficients, equations involving more than two variables, partial differential equations, and spatial forms.

s152. Analytic Projective Geometry.
Credit, 1 course. C. I, II, III, or G. Five hours a week. Through both terms. First term, Mr. Lasley. Second term, Mr. Browne. Hour: 10:00 daily.
An introduction to homogeneous coördinates and their application, projective correspondences, duality, ideal elements, conics, collineations and involutions in one dimension.

Courses for Graduates

s221. Partial Differential Equations.
Credit, 1 course. G. Five hours a week. Through both terms. First term, Mr. Hoyle. Second term, Mr. Hobbs. Hour: 11:00 daily.
Partial differential equations and their applications.

s236. Higher Plane Curves.
Credit, ½ course. G. Five hours a week. First term, Mr. Lasley. Hour: 9:00 daily.
A study of plane curves of order higher than two, with special emphasis on cubics and quartics; Plücker formulae, curves of Hesse, of Steiner and of Cayley; classification of cubics; singularities of curves, etc.

s241. Lie Theory of Differential Equations.
Credit, 1 course. G. Five hours a week. Through both terms. First term, Mr. Hoyle. Second term, Mr. Hobbs. Hour: 8:00 daily.
A study of differential equations from the point of view of continuous groups.

MUSIC

Note. All registrations in Music, whether for credit courses or for private instruction, must be made through the head of the department, Mr. Dyer, at the registration desk or in the Music building; and if desired for credit in the College of Liberal Arts, must be approved by Dean Hobbs.

s1. Fundamentals of Music Theory.
Credit, ½ course. C. I, II. Five hours a week. First term. Hour: 9:00. Mr. Wilsbach.
A course covering the terminology and fundamental theory of music notation. The study of scales, keys, major and minor modes, note values in all measures and rhythms. Intended for the student who has had no previous music study and is prerequisite for courses listed hereinafter.

s3. Sight Singing and Ear Training, Elementary.
Credit, ½ course. C. I, II. Five hours a week, both terms. First term, 11:00. Second term, 9:00 daily. Mr. Wilsbach.
A beginners course in the process of reading music at sight and in recognizing and reproducing music at first hearings. The So-fa syllables are used and the material is such as would be read in the first three grades. This course should be taken simultaneously with the course in Public School Music Methods, Primary Grades, but is also open to students not taking this course.

s5. Sight Singing and Ear Training, Advanced.
Credit, ½ course. C. I, II. Five hours a week, both terms. First term, Mr. Kennedy. 9:00. Second term, 12:00 daily. Mr. Wilsbach.
A continuation of the course in Sight Singing and Ear Training, Elementary, open to any student who can do the work outlined therein. The material for this course is such as would be read in grades four to seven. This course should be taken simultaneously with course in Public School Methods, Grammar Grades, but is also open to students not taking this course.

s21. Harmony, Elementary.
Credit, ½ course. C. II. Five hours a week. First term. 12:00 daily. Mr. Wilsbach.
Prerequisite, a fair degree of facility in reading music notation of the approximate difficulty of the ordinary hymn tune. This course includes a study of intervals, major and minor diatonic scales, harmonic progressions, cadences, sequences, etc., using the common chord in the root position.

s22. Harmony, Elementary.
Credit, ½ course. C. I, II. Five hours a week. First term. Mr. Kennedy. 10:00 daily. Second term. Mr. Dyer. 8:00 daily. (See description for s21.)

s26. History of Music, Romantic and Modern Periods.
Credit, ½ course. C. I, II. Five hours a week. First term. Mr. McCorkle. 8:00 daily.
A survey of music history starting approximately with the year 1600 and covering the classic and romantic schools. The course is illustrated throughout. Students may enter this course who have had no previous musical training.

s51. Appreciation of Music.
Credit, ½ course. C. I, II. Five hours a week, both terms. First term, 10:00, Mr. McCorkle. Second term, 9:00, Mr. Dyer.
A course in the appreciation of music to be conducted as a survey of material in the romantic programme schools. This will serve as a course subsequent to Music 3, which has been scheduled as a summer course heretofore, and will give additional credit to those people who have had the former course.

s57. Music Education (Primary Grades Methods).
Credit, ½ course. C. II. Five hours a week. Both terms. First term, 10:00, Mrs. Woodman. Second term, 8:00, Mr. Wilsbach.
Materials and methods for grades one to three inclusive; rote songs, singing games, etc.; preparation for and beginning of the sight-reading process. Students in this course should register also for Elementary Sight Singing and Ear Training if they have not already passed this course or its equivalent.

s60. Music Education (Grammar Grades Methods).
Credit, ½ course. C. II. Five hours a week. Both terms. First term, 8:00, Mrs. Woodman. Second term, 10:00, Mr. Wilsbach.
Materials and methods for grades four to seven inclusive. Sight-reading problems, part singing, etc. Prerequisites, Music Education s57, or Elementary Sight Singing and Ear Training, or their equivalents. Students in this course should register also for Intermediate Sight Singing and Ear Training if they have not already passed this course or its equivalent.

s63. Music Education (Methods of Appreciation).
Credit, ½ course. C. II. Five hours a week. First term only, 9:00 daily. Mrs. Woodman.
A methods course in the teaching of music appreciation in the public schools. Students registering for this course should have had teaching experience and training in music equal to that required of grade school teachers.

s66. Dalcroze Eurythmics.
Credit, ½ course. C. II. Five hours a week. Both terms, 8:00 daily. Required of all music students with no previous credit in the work. Fee $7.50. Miss Gjerulff. (A second section organized upon demand.)
A fundamental course in the study of rhythm and in the expression of the various elements of music through bodily movement. Several sections will be organized at different hours, for both children and adults, allowing the individual to be assigned to a suitable group. Fee for the term, $7.50; a limited amount of private instruction will be available to students desiring not fewer than 15, and preferably 25 periods, the fee to be $1.00 per period.

s67. Methods of Teaching Class Violin.
Credit, ½ course. C. II. Five hours a week, and outside preparation. First term only, 2:00. Fee, $25.00. Mr. McCorkle.
A methods course in the class teaching of violin. The course will include observation in violin class work at periods to be arranged. Students in this course are expected to register also for the course in Dalcroze Eurythmics, unless excused by the head of the department.

s71. Instrumentation.
Credit, ½ course. C. I, II. Five hours a week. First term. 12:00 daily. Mr. McCorkle.
A practical course in orchestral and band instrumentation, including a study of the various band and orchestra instruments and their technique, and a study of the principles which govern the arrangement of music for these instruments. This course is particularly valuable to students who work with or in orchestras and bands, and to supervisors of music.

s77. Music Education (High School Methods).
Credit, ½ course. C. I, II. Five hours a week. Both terms. 11:00 daily. Mr. Dyer.
Organization and planning of courses in music for high schools; conducting, grading, voice testing, etc., glee clubs; vocal and instrumental classes.

*s83. Choral Conducting.
Credit, ½ course. C. II. Five hours a week. First term. 9:00 daily. Mr. Dyer. (Will be given during second term upon demand.)

Special Courses

sA. Lessons in Organ.
Both terms. First term, Mr. Kennedy. Second term, Mr. Wilsbach. Fee, $20.00 for the term, (two lessons a week). Hours by arrangement with teacher. Practice and lessons on Reuter four manual concert organ in Music Hall. See note below.*

*Practice on new Reuter four manual concert organ in Music Hall is available to students. Practice fee: $12.00 for term of six weeks, one hour a day, or $20.00 for term of six weeks, two hours a day.
Advanced Conducting will be offered upon demand. Prerequisite s83.

sB. Lessons in Piano.
Both terms. First term, Mr. Kennedy. Second term, Mr. Wilsbach. Fee, $20.00 for the term, (two lessons a week). Hours by arrangement with teacher. See note below.

sC. Lessons in Violin.
First term only, Mr. McCorkle. Fee, $20.00 for term, (two lessons a week). Hours by arrangement with teacher. See note below.

sD. Lessons in Singing.
Both terms, Mr. Dyer. Fee, $26.00 for term. (Two lessons a week.) Hours by arrangement with teacher. See note below.

sE. Lessons in Brass and Woodwind Instruments.
First term only, Mr. McCorkle. Fee, $14.00 for term. (Two lessons a week.) Hours by arrangement with teacher. See note below.

Special Notice

Brass, woodwind, and stringed instrument groups will be organized during the first term for special non-credit training in ensemble. No fee. Instruments should be brought to the session by those owning them. A limited number of instruments available on rental plan. Band and orchestra, or both, will be formed if the demand is sufficient.

A Chorus, open to students of ALL departments, will rehearse at 5:00 on Mondays and Wednesdays in Music Hall. Choral literature suitable for all school situations will be examined and sung. No fee.

PHYSICS

Courses for Undergraduates

s21-22. General Physics. Part I. Prerequisite, Mathematics 1-2.
Credit, Part I, 1 course. Ten lectures and six laboratory hours a week. First term. Mr. Fussler, Mr. Craven and assistant. Hours: Lectures, 9:00 and 12:00 daily. Laboratory, M., W., F., 2:00 to 4:00. Laboratory fee, $4.00.

s21-22. General Physics. Part II. Prerequisite, Mathematics 1-2 and Physics s21-22, Part I.
Credit, Part II, 1 course. Ten lectures and six laboratory hours a week. Second term. Mr. Plyler and Mr. Craven. Hours: Lectures, 9:00 and 12:00 daily. Laboratory, M., W., F., 2:00 to 4:00. Laboratory fee, $4.00.

Courses for Graduates and Advanced Undergraduates

s101. Mechanics and Wave Motion. Prerequisite, Physics s21-22.
Credit, 1 course. Hours: 11:00 and 12:00 daily.

s103. Modern Electrical Theory. Prerequisite, Physics s21-22, Chemistry s1-2.
Credit, 1 course. Hours: 11:00 and 12:00 daily.

s105. Optics. Prerequisites, Physics s21-22.
Credit, 1 course. Eight lectures per week, 11:00 and 12:00. Laboratory, four hours per week. Hours to be arranged. Laboratory fee, $3.00.

Note: Physics s101, s103, or s105 will be given in the first term by Mr. Stuhlman.

Practice rooms with piano available for fee of $2.00 per term of six weeks. Keys issued on deposit of 50 cents, which is refunded at close of term when key is returned.
Practice rooms without piano, suitable for instrumental practice available at fee of $1.00 for term of six weeks.

s102. Heat and Thermodynamics. Prerequisite, Physics s21-22, Mathematics 1-2-13.
Credit, 1 course. Eight hours lectures, 10:00 to 12:00, M., T., W., Th. Laboratory, four hours per week. Laboratory fee, $3.00.

s103. Modern Electrical Theory. As outlined above.

s104. Advanced Electricity and Magnetism. Prerequisite, Physics 1-2, Mathematics 24.
Credit, 1 course. Eight hours lectures, 10:00 to 12:00, M., T., W., Th. Laboratory, four hours per week. Hours to be arranged. Laboratory fee, $3.00.
Note: Physics s102, s103, or s104 will be given in the second term by Mr. Plyler.

Courses Primarily for Graduates

s301. Research. Intended for applicants for advanced degrees. First term. Mr. Stuhlman. Second term. Mr. Plyler.

s203. Atomic Structure. Prerequisite, Physics 101, 103, 104, 105. Mathematics 25.
Credit, ½ course. Lectures daily, 8:00. First term. Mr. Stuhlman.

PSYCHOLOGY

Courses for Undergraduates

s21. General Psychology: First half.
Credit, 1 course. C. I, II, III, IV, V. Eight lectures and eight laboratory hours a week. First term. Laboratory fee, $4.00. Mr. DeWick. Lecture hours: 11:00 and 12:00 daily. Laboratory hours 2:00 and 3:00 M., T., W.
The aim of the course is to present the essential phenomena of the general field of psychology, and the various theoretical and experimental methods of its approach. Lectures and experiments. This is equivalent to the first half of Psychology 21-22 scheduled in the University catalogue. This course, with course 22, or equivalent, is prerequisite to all other courses in Psychology.

ROMANCE LANGUAGES

FRENCH

Courses for Undergraduates

s1. Elementary Course.
Credit, 1 course. E. Ten hours a week. First term. Mr. Carroll. Hours: 8:00 and 12:00 daily.
Essentials of French Grammar. Special drill in pronunciation. It is aimed to make this course as practical as possible, with much oral work.

s2. Elementary Course.
Credit, 1 course. E. Ten hours a week. Second term. Mr. Wright. Hours: 8:00 and 12:00 daily.
Continuation of French s1.

3. Intermediate French.
Credit, 1 course. Ten hours a week. First term. Mr. Lyons. Hours to be arranged.

Review of grammar, composition, oral practice, and translation of standard modern French.

s4. Intermediate French (continuation of French s3).
Credit, 1 course. Ten hours a week. Second term. Mr. Lyons. Hours to be arranged.

s21. Introduction to French Literature.
Credit, 1 course. Ten hours a week. First term. Mr. Lyons. Hours to be arranged.
Prerequisite: French 4 or the equivalent.
A general survey of the history of French literature from the beginnings through the seventeenth century. Reading of plays of Corneille, Racine, and Molière.

s22. Modern French Literature.
Credit, 1 course. Ten hours a week. Second term. Mr. Lyons. Hours to be arranged.
Prerequisite: French 21 or its equivalent.
A general survey of the history of French literature since the 17th century, with special emphasis on the nineteenth century. Readings from Voltaire, Beaumarchais, Chateaubriand, and Victor Hugo.

s51. French Conversation and Composition.
Credit, 1 course. C. I, II, III. Five hours a week. Through both terms. Mr. Smith. Hour: 8:00 daily.
The object of this course is to provide students with an opportunity to acquire practice in spoken French. Discussions in French on subjects of general interest. Composition and outside reading.

Courses for Graduates and Advanced Undergraduates

s145. French Phonetics.
Credit, 1 course. C. I, II, or G. Five hours a week. Through both terms. First term, Mr. Dey. Second term, Mr. Wiley. Hour: 10:00 daily.
A detailed study of the French vowel and consonant sounds by the phonetic method.

s192. French Literature Since 1850.
Credit, 1 course. C. I, II, or G. Five hours a week. Through both terms. First term, Mr. Dey. Second term, Mr. Wiley. Hour: 9:00 daily.
A study of the later literary movements of the 19th century, with some emphasis on the contemporary period.

Courses Primarily for Graduates

s221. Old French.
Credit, 1 course. G. Five hours a week. Through both terms. Mr. Holmes. Hour: 12:00 daily.
Reading of the oldest texts: La Chanson de Roland; Aucassin et Nicolette; Chrétien de Troyes. Lectores on French Phonology and Morphology.

s225. Provencal.
Credit, 1 course. G. Five hours a week. Through both terms. Mr. Holmes. Hour: 11:00 daily.
A study of the ancient language and literature of Provence. The poetry of the Troubadours.

s395. Research.
Credit, 1 course. G. Through both terms.
(Research in a special field under the direction of a member of the department.)

*A special tuition fee will be charged for the following courses: French 3, 4, 21, and 22, and Spanish 3 and 4.

ITALIAN

s121. Dante.
Credit, 1 course. G. Five hours a week. Through both terms. Mr. Holmes. Hour: 8:00 daily.
The Vita Nuova and the Inferno, with some reference to origins of Italian literature and to the poets of the dolce stil nuovo.

SPANISH

Courses for Undergraduates

s1. Elementary Course.
Credit, 1 course. E. Ten hours a week. First term. Mr. Shields. Hours: 8:00 and 12:00 daily.
Essentials of Spanish grammar. Special drill in pronunciation. It is aimed to make this course as practical as possible.

s2. Elementary Course.
Credit, 1 course. E. Ten hours a week. Second term. Mr. Shields. Hours: 8:00 and 12:00 daily.
Continuation of Spanish s1.

s3. Intermediate Spanish.
Credit, 1 course. Ten hours a week. First term. Mr. Shields. Hours to be arranged.
Prerequisite: Two years of high school Spanish or two terms of college Spanish.
Review of grammar, composition, oral practice, and reading of standard modern Spanish prose.

s4. Intermediate Spanish (continuation of Spanish s3).
Credit, 1 course. Ten hours a week. Second term. Mr. Smields. Hours to be arranged.

Courses for Graduates and Advanced Undergraduates

s109. Early Spanish Prose Fiction.
Credit, 1 course. C. I, II, or G. Five hours a week. Through both terms. First term, Mr. Adams. Second term, Mr. Stoudemire. Hour: 9:00 daily.
A study of the origins and development of the novel in Spain up to the time of Cervantes.

s134. Spanish Drama of the Nineteenth Century.
Credit, 1 course. C. I, II, or G. Five hours a week. Through both terms. First term, Mr. Adams. Second term, Mr. Stoudemire. Hour: 12:00 daily.
Reading of representative plays of this period.

s145. Spanish Phonetics.
Credit, 1 course. C. I, II, or G. Five hours a week. Through both terms. First term, Mr. Adams. Second term, Mr. Stoudemire. Hour: 11:00 daily.
A detailed study of the Spanish vowel and consonant sounds by the phonetic method.

Course Primarily for Graduates

s395. Research.
Credit, 1 course. G. Through both terms.
(Research in a special field under the direction of a member of the department.)

*A special tuition fee will be charged for the following courses: French 3, 4, 21, and 22, and Spanish 3 and 4.

RURAL SOCIAL ECONOMICS

Courses for Undergraduates

s51. Rural Economics.
Credit, ½ course. C. I, II. Five hours a week. First term. Mr. Wager. Hour: 9:00 daily.
Introduction to rural economics, covering the nature and scope of rural economics, systems of farming, advantages and disadvantages of farming, land, labor and capital as factors of production, place of agriculture in national production, farm tenancy, the tariff, rural credits, the farmer's standard of living, and proposals for agricultural relief.

s81. The Rural County and Its Institutions.
Credit, ½ course. C. I, II. Five hours a week. Second term. Mr. Wager. Hour: 10:00 daily.
A study of the county as a unit of social organization. The county is examined as a unit of education, public welfare, library service, material and cultural development. An analysis is made of existing institutions and of proposed adjustments. Attention is given to the civic attitude manifested in the county, and the quality of leadership found.

s91. Research in Rural Social-Economics.
Credit, ½ course. C. I, II. Ten hours laboratory work each week. Either term. Mr. Hobbs and Mr. Wager. Hours: To be arranged.
Home-state studies in such fields as resources, population, wealth and taxation, education, agriculture, industry; research projects and surveys.

s92. Rural Sociology.
Credit, ½ course. C. I, II. Five hours a week. Second term. Mr. Wager. Hour: 8:00 daily.
Introduction to rural sociology, covering the nature of rural society, rural population, rural social institutions, and rural social problems such as farm tenancy, illiteracy, health, and recreation.

s95. Laboratory Course on the Home County.
Credit, ½ course. C. I, II. Ten hours laboratory work each week. Second term. Mr. Wager. Hours: To be arranged.
Studies in the economic and social conditions of the home county with a view finally to the publication of a county survey or a county geography supplement.

Course for Graduates and Advanced Undergraduates

s101. North Carolina: Economic and Social.
Credit, ½ course. C. I, II, or G. Five hours a week. First term. Mr. Hobbs. Hour: 11:00 daily.
This course is designed to acquaint the student with North Carolina. It covers the natural resouries of North Carolina, physical regions, agriculture, industry, wealth and taxation, transportation, ruralism, and urbanization, state and county government, education, illiteracy, public health, and public welfare.

Courses Primarily for Graduates

s208. Rural Social Problems.
Credit, 1 course. G. Ten hours a week. First term. Mr. Branson. Hours: Class discussions 9:00 daily; laboratory hours arranged to suit students' schedule.
Class discussions, readings, and term reports on Country Life Institions, (1) the country home, (2) the country school, (3) the country church and Sunday school, (4) our little country towns, (5) the country doctor and the rural health problem, (6) county government in rural counties.

s301. Rural Economics.
Credit, 1 course (½ course each term). G. Research course. Ten hours a week. Through both terms. Staff. Hours arranged to suit students' schedule.

Research seminars, and field investigations in (1) land economics, resources, values, ownership and tenancy, laws and policies; (2) farm organizations and management—farm systems, farm finance, distribution of farm products and the farm income, coöperative farm enterprise; (3) country wealth, country institutions and problems; (4) state and county studies, economic, social, and civic; county bulletins, etc.

s311. Rural Sociology.
Credit, 1 course (½ course each term). G. Research course. Ten hours a week. Through both terms. Staff. Hours arranged to suit students' schedule.

1. Research, seminars, and field investigations of (1) rural social institutions and agencies, (2) transportation and communication facilities in rural areas, (3) country-mindedness and its consequences, (4) town and country inter-dependencies, (5) social disability in country areas, our public welfare laws and agencies, (6) social aspects of tenancy and illiteracy, (7) state and county studies, economic, social, and civic; county bulletins, etc.
2. Rural Social Surveys; research, technic, and field work.
3. Statistics; interpretation and use.
4. Rural Social Engineering: (1) country community studies; (2) community organization, economic and social; (3) county government; (4) country leadership, requisites and technic.

SOCIOLOGY

Courses for Undergraduates

s41a. Introduction to Sociology.
Credit, ½ course. C. I, II. Five hours a week. First term. Mr. Brearley. Hour: 10:00 daily. Emphasis on social origins as found in primitive society, the rise of contemporary society, the forces shaping society studied thorough geographical, biological, psychological, and cultural approaches; social ogranization and control; the element of social theory.

s41a. Introduction to Sociology.
Credit, ½ course. C. I, II. Five hours a week. Second term. Mr. Sanders. Hour: 8:00 daily. (Description same as above.)

s42a. Social Problems.

PART III—DIVISION OF ELEMENTARY EDUCATION

This division of the Summer School takes the place of the Normal School Division of former years. The curriculum here outlined which leads to the degree of Bachelor of Arts in Education is designed to prepare teachers for the primary and grammar grades of our public schools. The courses that go to make up this curriculum might as well be listed in the appropriate departments of the University as shown in Section II. Many of them are so listed. These courses are for the present listed separately in order to give emphasis to this division of the School of Education and in order to show more clearly their relation to other curricula.

It is readily seen that most of the academic courses called for in the curriculum for elementary teachers are already set up in the several departments of the University. This is true particularly of some of the elective courses in Education, several of the courses in English, and of the academic courses from which majors and minors are to be chosen.

Outline of Curriculum for Elementary Teachers

PART IV—SPECIAL FEATURES

The general program of entertainment and recreation sponsored by the 1932 Summer School will be under the direction of the Y. M. C. A. (A further statement about the social activities of the Y. W.-M. C. A. appears below.) In addition to the program of social activities, entertainment and recreation conducted by the Y. M. C. A., there will be several other single attractions sponsored by the Summer School Administration, such as concerts, lectures, and dramatic performances. Definite announcements concerning these will appear from time to time while the Summer School is in session. Some of these attractions for which preliminary arrangements have been made are as follows:

The Department of Music will put on a series of faculty and student recitals.

The Carolina Playmakers as in previous summers will present a modern play in their beautiful little Playmakers Theatre on the University campus.

The summer session students interested in dramatics will have an opportunity of taking active part in this production as actors and also in the designing and construction of the scenery, in costuming, lighting and make-up of the production. The play to be presented will be announced later.

Among other special features that have been arranged are the following:

Professor Frederick H. Koch, Director of The Carolina Playmakers, will deliver a series of lectures as follows:

The Woman in Shakespeare illustrated with readings from "The Taming of the Shrew."

The Pageant of Shakespeare illustrated with readings from "A Midsummer Night's Dream.

The Tragic World in "Hamlet" illustrated with scenes from the play.

The Heart of Youth in "Romeo and Juliet" illustrated with scenes from the play.

Making an American Folk Drama. This lecture may be illustrated with stereopticon slides.

The Carolina Playmakers illustrated with readings from the "Carolina Folk-Plays."

Rabbi Isaac Marcuson (June 13-16)

The second week in June, Rabbi Isaac Marcuson of Macon, Georgia, will deliver, under the auspices of the Jewish Chautauqua Society of America, a series of four lectures.

Dr. Marcuson's subjects are:

1. Great Moral Reformation About the Sixth Century.
2. The Development of the Moral Idea in the Old Testament.
3. The Development of the God Idea in the Old Testament.
4. The Influence of the Ethical Ideas of the Bible on Modern Life.

Public Welfare Institute (July 11-15)

The annual public welfare institute under the joint direction of the School of Public Welfare and the State Board of Charities and Public Welfare will be held during the week of July 11-15. The work consists of lectures and discussions of social work technique and problems. Superintendents of Public Welfare, probation officers, institutional workers, and other social workers and persons interested in social work find these institutes worth while.

Conference on Elementary Education (July 14-15)

July 14 and 15, a two-day conference on Elementary Education in North Carolina will be held at Chapel Hill. This conference is sponsored jointly by the State Department of Education and the Summer School. It will be presided over by Honorable A. T. Allen, State Superintendent of Public Instruction.

Fourth Parent-Teacher Institute (August 15-19)

The fifth annual Parent-Teacher Institute will be held at the University, August 15-19, inclusive. The Extension Division is cooperating with the North Carolina Congress of Parents and Teachers in conducting this short course for leaders of the parent-teacher movement in the State. Summer school students are invited to attend. The registration fee is one dollar. The sessions will be held in the auditorium of Bingham Hall.

Adult Education (August 8-20)

The University Extension Division in coöperation with the State Commission on Adult Illiteracy will conduct at Chapel Hill, August 8 to 20, the second short training course for teachers of adult beginners. A demonstration night school will be organized so that members of the course may receive practical experience in teaching adult illiterates. Further particulars may be obtained by writing R. M. Grumman, Director, Chapel Hill, N. C.

Coaching School (August 22-September 3)

The University of North Carolina's eleventh annual coaching school for athletic directors and coaches will be conducted at Chapel Hill during the period August 22-September 3. Instruction will be offered in the coaching of football, basketball, baseball, track, tennis, boxing and wrestling, and in athletic training and conditioning. Robert A. Fetzer, director of athletics in the University, will serve as director of the school and the various members of the University's regular coaching staff will serve as instructors. For a copy of the illustrated announcement, address E. R. Rankin, Secretary, Chapel Hill, N. C.

Social Activities

The Committee on Social Activities, H. F. Comer, Chairman, is in control of the evening socials in the gymnasium and of all dances given by student groups. It is the policy of the committee to foster the maximum amount of wholesome social life compatible with good scholarship work. In keeping with this policy, the essential regulations are kept down to the minimum number. There will be dancing in the gymnasium regularly, under the management of the social committee, on Friday and Saturday evenings. Inasmuch as there is no appropriation or fee for defraying the expenses of social programs, the dances have to be self-supporting. Therefore a small door fee is charged of all men at each dance—fifty cents for the two-and-one-half-hour periods.

Permissions for all dances given by students anywhere and at any time must be obtained in advance from the chairman of the Social Activities Committee.

The highest standard of conduct has characterized our social functions in the past and the Summer School insists that this be the case at all times.

The Y. W.-Y. M. C. A.

The Y. W.-M. C. A. is a combined organization of Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A. It has a mixed cabinet of men and women students, about thirty in number, with an employed staff of three Secretaries, two women and one man. This Association serves the entire Summer School, and in campus vernacular is called simply the "Y." It has headquarters in the Y. M. C. A. building which is located in the heart of the campus. The location of the building typifies the place the Association fills in the life of the community, for it is truly the center of campus activities.

The principal points of the "Y's" program for the summer are the following:

1. Operating the "Y" building, as a Campus Home—or club for all—having lobby; parlor, with piano, victrola, etc.; reading room carrying more than fifteen leading magazines and all daily papers of the State; free pressing room, furnishing electric iron; three committee rooms; telephone for local and long distance service; ice water, etc. In the building a host and hostess are always present to receive and serve students and their friends. Make the "Y" your home this summer.

2. A distinctive form of campus service is rendered through the "Y" office, in an Information and Lost and Found Bureau. A master directory is kept here, of all students and faculty. All telegrams and long distance calls are handled through this office. Found articles are turned in here and prompt effort is made to locate the owner. Inquiries are also left at the office for lost articles. Any information desired, in fact, may be had here, for if we cannot answer your questions we know who can and will direct you to them.

3. Special attention is given the many visitors who come to the campus throughout the summer. You are invited to instruct your visiting friends to "Report at the 'Y'" and wait in the parlor while we send for you.

4. Religious program is given constant and thorough attention by the "Y" organization during the summer. It coöperates with the five local churches in their efforts for students. It conducts a vesper, or 12-minute prayer service every evening immediately following supper. The several rural churches near Chapel Hill are assisted regularly by a committee of as many students as are willing to serve in this way. If interested, you should ask for a place on the "Y" Cabinet.

5. The Social and Entertainment department is very active all the time. It provides music and general facilities for amusement. There is a special "Social Hour" every evening before study time. It conducts games and mass play one or two evenings every week. This department also conducts picnics, hikes, and various other parties from time to time.

6. A Self-Help Bureau is ever active, assisting any needy students in getting remunerative employment for defraying part of their college expenses.

7. In addition to the above points of program, the "Y" is a general campus and community welfare agency, rendering service wherever needed. The Association solicits the coöperation of every summer school student. Use it, and work through it!

8. The social program will make frequent use of the handsome Graham Memorial Building this summer.

Exhibits

For many years several of the larger publishing houses, manufacturers of school supplies and materials, and dealers in school furniture and apparatus have put on exhibits at the Summer School. A large room on the first floor of Peabody Building is set apart for this purpose. Teachers always find these exhibits interesting and worth while.
